

Andrea Newman
Senior Vice President, Government Affairs
Delta Air Lines, Inc. (Retired)

For over 35 years, Newman worked at the intersection of law, business, policy, and politics in a Fortune 100 company, at a nationally recognized law firm, at a premier U.S. University, and at the highest levels of the federal government. She currently serves on the board of directors for two Carlyle private equity companies, Prime Flight Aviation, and StandardAero. She also serves on the board of the private equity company Sequitur Energy Resources LLC.

Newman served as Senior Vice President – Government Affairs for Delta Air Lines from 2008 - 2017, with responsibility for International, Regulatory, Federal, State, and Local government affairs. From 2001-2008, she was Senior Vice President – Government Affairs for Northwest Airlines. Prior to beginning her airline career in 1995, she was a Senior Partner at Miller, Canfield, Paddock, and Stone, a Detroit, Michigan, law firm.

Newman's public service includes serving in President Ronald Reagan's Administration as Special Counsel to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Acquisition & Logistics and Deputy Assistant to Vice President George H. W. Bush. She has been appointed to the Department of Education's National Advisory Committee on Institutional Quality and Integrity and the National Board for the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education. She was a Federal Service Impasses Panel member, first appointed by President George W. Bush 2001-2009, and reappointed in 2017, serving until 2021. Newman was elected to the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan from 1995-2019.

Newman received her J.D. from the George Washington University National Law Center and was an honors graduate of the University of Michigan.
